IN PLACE OF THE PIE AGRICULTURAL EDUCATION IN WESTERN GANADA

THE LATEST METHODS ADOPTED BY THE AGRICULTURAL COLLEGES.

Scientific forming can be pursued with more profit and advantage in Western Canada, probably than in any other portion of the continent. What may be achieved by it may be accertained when it is known what has been accomplished by the thou sands who have been following the occupation for some time and stade n success of it with not even a theore tieni knowledge. They "have tickied the innd with a hoe" and become rich But the questien is how long could that cantinne. The soil and the climnte and every other cenditios favor grent results by a parsuit of such methods as a technical and practical knowledge will bring. There is in the writer's opinion no possibility of failure. Fully aware of this and also of the great potentiniities that exist In Western Canada for the Ioilowing of the profession of farming, as it could be developed and entried on in Western Canada, the various governmanta have established the machinery, that there may be developed a cluss of formers, who is the possession of the rich soil of that country, with its abundant humas and its phosphates and other properties with which it is so largely endowed, will make of the country, the grentest farming portion of the known world.

The Dominion government showed puternalism years ago when It es thhilshed experimental farms in Mani-toha and Suskatchewan. The benefits of these in the matter of practical education have been widesprend, but the greatest benefit is to be observed in the immediate vicinity of these farms, where the occupants have brought their holdings into a high state of cultivation, and year after year sees an added value.

The Province of Manitoha is sup plementing this work by its excellent agricultural callege, manned by pro-fessors of the highest standing in their various branches. That this work is appreciated is shown by the large attendance, net only of the farmer's sons, but by the former him sell and also by the sons of business men and professors who intend following farming as a prafession, and that is what it is fast becoming.

Tha Province of Saskatchewan. slive to the necessity of a higher and a better system of farming, has in connectian with its university as agricultarid callege and what it is do ing today in the matter of education will be felt for all time to come, and it will not be long before it will be nn ensy matter to pick out the farms manned by graduates of this college, or the farms owned by those who have gained from the experience taught by their neighbor. The some may be said of Alberta The university at Edmonton bas complete agricultural college. Fi advantage of this is taken by hundreds of students aoxioos to better their agricoltoral knowledge, and lit them to take hold saccessfally of the lands that they expect to becupy. This province iraa niso ndded demnnstra-tion farms in vorious parts, which are very successful, lnasmach as farmers visit them from all purts, and take advantage of educating themselves for short periods during each winter.

Dean Cortiss of Ames Agricultural College, lowa, says:

"We of the Uolted States think that we know how to get heliud ogrl-culture und push, bat the Conadians dars to do even more than we do in some respects. They invo wonderful faith in the fature; they besitate at no undertoking that offers prospects of results. More significant still is the wide co-operation for agricultural pro-motion, including the government, private individuals and corporations and the ruitreads." "Canadlans are putting great faith to education for the development of their resources—not the old education, but vocational and technical. Provinces that have less than half the population of lowe and much less wealth are appropriating more liberally for colleges and schools. Manitobu, for instance, has in the last two years rovided about as mach money for tha building of an agriculturni plant as lowe has appropriated in helf a cen-tary. It has given in two years $2, 500,000 for boildings and grounds for its sgricultural institutions.

"Saskatchewan is bailding a piont for its university and agricultural college on a broader and more substimplan than has been opplied to any similar institution in this country. heither province has more than haif a relifion population

"For public schools equally gener-ous provision is made. They are heing bailt up to give vocational and technical troining as well as caltural. They fit the needs of the country exand should turn out types of hoys and girls. They do this with a remarkable faith in the value of right education

"Dean Cartiss was much interested In the many other ways the Canadian government aids agriculture, aside from appropriations for educational purposes They are aiding in solving marketing problems; they are encoarpurposes aging better breeding of liveatock by baying sires and reseiling them a cost, and they are doing orany other things of like character.

"I found that the government is ndvancing from 50 to 55 per cont. of the money necessary to build co-operstive creameries and elevotors," heau Cartiss, "and it is doing it ut a low rate of interest and on long time payments. Where cattle acud breed-

isg to, the government buys bulls of dairy, Shorthorn, or special dairy breeds and seeds them in at cost price and on long time payments."

The yield of grain in Western Canada in 1913 was excellent but not abnormal, whest going from 30 to 45 hushels per acre, and other small grain with equally good averages.—Adver-

it was sold that a demand for $250, 000 which young Terranzas failed to pay was the chief motive for his arrest. RANSDELL AND NEWLANDS IN RADICAL DISAGREEMENT AS TO CONTROL METHODS.

CONGRESS IS ASKED TO ACT

Louislana Man Favors Levees and Is Supported by Head of Mississippi River Commission-Nevada Senator Urges Reservoirs.

By GEORGE CLINTON.

Washington.-United States Senators Joseph E. Ransdell of Louislana and Francis ti. Newlands of Nevada, hoth Democrats, disagree radically as to the governmental methods to be employed to control the floods and to regulate and control the flow of nav-Igable strenms in the aid of interstate commerco. There were sharp discussions of the question involved at the tenth annual convention of the National Rivers and linrbors congress, which has just met in Washington.

The whole subject el Mississippi river improvement and the prevention of the flocds which have devasted the Mississippi valley in recent years is involved in this matter of difference between two senators of the United States, both of whom apparently are trying to reach the same end by entirely different means, tongress has been asked to act and the debate on the subject, especially as it affects the Missiasippi vailey, will perhaps be sharper in the senate than it was at the meeting of the delegates of the waterways congress.

Col. C. McD. Townsend of the United States engineer corps is the chairnam of the Mississippi river commission. Apparently he is opposed utterly to Mr. Newlands' pian, which would provide for itood prevention and protection by menns of hugo reservolva for water storage purposes and the protection of water sheds from denudation and erosion. Colonel Townsend seemingly, therefore, is opposed to plans which have received the endorsement of the conservationists who would have reforestation and forest fire protection go hand in hand with the work of flond prevention

Coienel Townsend's Views.

In writing on the subject, partleularly as it relates to the Mississippl river. Colonel Townsend says:

While of the opinion that levees afford the only practicable method of controlling the floods of the Missis-sippl river, I desire to stale that I am strongly in favor of both reforesta-tion and reservoir construction, but limited to the purposes for which they are adapted, just as 1 am in favor of re-enforced concrete for small bridges though not cansidering it applicable to one spaaning the lower Mississippi

In the opinion of this engineer officer, the control of the lower Misslsslppl by reservoirs is impracticable, if not impossible, although he says there are numerous smaller streams where reservoirs can be used with excellent He adds:

"The systematic conservation and regulation by the Federal government of the river from its source to its sounds most attractivn, gesting the scientific solution of every problem of river hydraulics, but in-stend I greatly fear that it is the voice of the siren luring the people to an open pork barrel for every stream in the United States."

Ransdell Is for Levees.

it is probable that Senator Ennsdeli represents the view of the people of the lower Mississippl section and in part the views of people of other seetions. llis belief is that the matter must be kept in the main stream during the flood times and that it can he

The attorney general already is looking into the high cost matters slong various lines of supposed lesst resistance, and he fora the winter is ended it is prohable that a committee of congress of an authorized commission will at tempt in find nut why prices are fly ing so high A legislative attempt probably will be made to bring the prices down tumbling.

It was Senstor Smoot, Republican of Utsh, who first took hold of the bull day chanco to take a rap at the claim of the Democrats that the tariff and some other things would help out the purse of the purchaser.

The Utnh mnn probably thinks as the Democrats do, that the tariff law has not yet had a chauce to prove anything in a price way, because it has been in operation such a comparatively short time, but a political op-portunity ought not be lost even if it comes in connection with a holiday supposed to be devoted to prayer and praise. At any rate, the Republicans of course, do not think that there is much necasion for thanksgiving days of Democratic supremacy.

Blames Cold Storags.

Representative McKellar of Tenaes see, who is a Democrat, is one of the leading proponents of the cause of the investigation into the bigi price matters generally. The Tennesseean apparently thinks that the cold storage houses are responsible in large part for the vanced cost of many food products Mr. McKellar's thought is in no wise new. The cold storage question bas been discussed in congress and cut of It time after time, It is believed, apparently, by all of those who suspect the cold storage plants of boosting the price of things, that the uitimate cost is an almost forbiddingly high one because so much money has been pat out in intermediate transactions. question will be gone into specifically by the Damocratic board of inquiry. Supplementing the really warm wrap which the ciderly lady leaves in her hmousine when entering the opera-house of a theater, is a transparent affair snid to be for the purpose of warding nff vagrant draughts from her shoulders, but actually designed to conceal her figure. This wrap, in gold or silver-siriped black or white ganze, in plain mailnes or in chiffon, is unlined and easily made, for it la simply a three-yard length of the very wide material now in general use. At each end it is gathered into wrist-bands concealed by irlilings and about the center of the back, nil of the fullness is gathered into the edges of a four-inch diameter circle of the samn material When worn, the gauze, mnlines or chiffon fulls in soft about the bust and hips and vaila, while it does not actually hide the bare shoulders and arms.
